

CERTIFICATE FOR AUDIO-VISUAL INDUSTRIES INDUCTION

The induction scheme is a response to industry feedback about a lack of work readiness amongst new entrants and covers key cross-sector skills including business enterprise, current and emerging technologies, and health and safety. 250 new entrants from across London will benefit from the scheme.

The Video College will be running courses through 2006.

To be eligible individuals must be a freelance worker or employee of a small to medium-sized enterprise in the audio-visual industries in London and have worked for more than one day but less than one year.

The Skillset Industry Induction Certificate consists of four units:

EMPLOYMENT AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT IN THE AUDIO-VISUAL INDUSTRIES

Career management including continuous professional development, business skills and employment rights and responsibilities are explored.

WORKING PRACTICE IN THE AUDIO-VISUAL INDUSTRIES

The Video College, 1 Thorpe Close, London, W10 5XL
Phone: 020 89642641 / Fax: 020 8960 2686
www.thevideocollege.co.uk

Developing knowledge and understanding of working practice, the importance of teamwork and skills required when working within the audio-visual industries.

CURRENT AND EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES IN THE AUDIO-VISUAL INDUSTRIES

A broad knowledge and understanding of current and emerging technologies used in the audio-visual industries and how they work.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

Gives individuals a clear understanding of their responsibilities and how their actions can contribute to a healthy and safe working environment.

Six places are available for each element of the course, except for screenwriting which has eight.

Call us on 020 8964 2641 to arrange to come in to see us